Take a Walk through History

The Rev. Thomas Hooker and his congregation set out on a journey from Cambridge to Hartford in 1636 in order to begin new lives. They traveled over what came to be known as the Old Connecticut Path. Today, the Path is hidden from plain sight, but ready to be rediscovered for its historic importance and natural beauty. Please join us as Jason Newton, a descendant of the Reverend Hooker, helps us get to know this hidden treasure in our midst.

In 1636, a group of travelers walked from Cambridge to Hartford to start a new life. We can trace their path today.
