To the Rescue!

At the next meeting of the Northborough Historical Society, Paul Desautels, who joined the Northborough Fire Department in 1965, will share his first-hand knowledge of the history of the organization — including how it grew as the town grew, and how it battled major fires over the years.

Most recently, Paul has been instrumental in having an historic fire “engine” returned to town.

Find out how the Fire Department grew with Northborough over its long history.
