Eating Out

Decades after the Worcester Lunch Car Company's closure in 1961, Worcester dining cars were sent to California and abroad. Learn more about these historical fixtures at the next meeting of the Northborough

Historical Society, when Richard Gutman presents: Serving the World with Worcester Dining Cars. Mr. Gutman is the foremost authority on the history of diners and author of the book American Diner Then and Now, a definitive work on the subject.

Join us, and celebrate Worcester Lunch Car Company's contributions to the legacy of an enduring American icon.
